Wide rich-poor gap big obstacle to IF growth

By Don J. Depue

MANILA (AP) — While the Philippines' rapid economic growth is widely lauded, a growing gap between the rich and the poor is seen as a major obstacle to sustained growth. A study of household income and wealth shows that 20 percent of households getting rich in the past decade.

Ex-hostage Angelo loses job at Clark

By Thomas Longo
Philadelphia Inquirer Staff Writer

It was a surprise when Clark County, Pa., announced that it had hired a former hostage to work as a clerk. The county's decision to hire Angelo, a former hostage of the Red Army Faction, was a surprise to many. Angelo, who was held for 11 years in Italy, was hired as a clerk in the county's office. He was hired by Clark County, Pa., which is one of the poorest counties in the state. Angelo was hired as a clerk in the county's office. Indonesia faces bird flu epidemic, says minist

JAKARTA—INDONESIA'S HEALTH MINISTER Wednesday warned the country was facing a real bird flu epidemic, even though it had not been officially reported.

Since June, he said, more than 100 people and 100,000 chickens have died from mysterious illnesses, and a dozen lakes of humans, birds and swine have mysteriously died.

"This has not been reported in any laboratory and this indicates that we do not know the cause of the deaths," he said, "except that it is deadly."

A human patient he named as 10-year-old child, a girl, and a woman, 40 years old, had been infected with a virus, and a child, about six, a dog and a pig had died, he said.

He said that treatment began from October 1999, and another patient, a girl, died in the hospital. He said that the patient was not infected with the virus.

QC to start issuing own traffic tickets on Oct. 1

By [illegible]

MANILA (Inquirer) — The Metropolitan Police Office (MPO) will start issuing its own traffic tickets on October 1, replacing the current system where tickets are issued by the Department of Transportation (DOTr) and the Department of Public Safety (DPS).

The MPO, which is part of the Metro Manila Development Authority (MMDA), will have jurisdiction over all traffic violations within the city limits of Manila, including the surrounding areas of Alabang, Marikina, and Muntinlupa.

The new system is expected to streamline the process of issuing tickets and reduce the number of complaints against the police. It will also allow the MPO to focus more on law enforcement and public safety.

The MPO will be equipped with new vehicles and personnel to handle the increased workload. The system will be implemented in a phased manner, starting with the central business district and other high-traffic areas.

Reduced bank taxes mullied in Taguig City

By [illegible]

TAGUIG (Inquirer) — The Taguig City Council is considering a resolution to reduce the bank taxes levied on financial institutions operating in the city. The council is currently reviewing the impact of the taxes on the local economy and the banking sector.

The proposed reduction aims to attract more banks and financial services to the city, which is a major financial hub. The council is also looking at ways to improve the city's infrastructure and public services to make it more attractive to investors.

The resolution is expected to be passed by the council in the coming months. The city government is also planning to launch a series of initiatives to promote economic growth and development in the city.

Crime bands behind killings

By [illegible]

MANILA (Inquirer) — Crime bands are behind the recent wave of killings in Manila, according to police officials. The bands are reportedly composed of former military personnel and other individuals who have turned to crime for a living.

The police are currently conducting investigations to identify and dismantle these crime bands. They are also implementing measures to prevent further killings and ensure the safety of the public.

The crime bands are active in various parts of the city, including the central business district and the surrounding areas. They are reportedly involved in a wide range of criminal activities, including drug trafficking, prostitution, and other forms of organized crime.

Who is Gonzales protecting?

By [illegible]

MANILA (Inquirer) — The question of who is protecting the interests of the people in the case of the alleged corruption of a high-ranking official has become a topic of debate. The public is concerned about the lack of transparency and accountability in the government.

The case involves a high-ranking official who is alleged to have been involved in a series of transactions that may be illegal. The public is demanding that the government investigate the case thoroughly and take appropriate action against those involved.

The government has stated that it is committed to upholding the law and ensuring the integrity of its officials. However, the public remains skeptical and is calling for more oversight and transparency in the government's operations.

7-month garment exports up 1.37% to $1.27B

By Richard P. Pennington
 NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. garment exports to the rest of the world rose 1.37 percent in the first seven months of 2005 from the same period last year, according to the U.S. Census Bureau. The total value of exports was $1.27 billion, up from $1.25 billion in 2004. The increase was driven by a rise in exports to Asia, which grew 2.1 percent to $400 million. Exports to Europe rose 1.1 percent to $350 million, and exports to Latin America rose 0.8 percent to $150 million. Exports to the rest of the world fell 0.5 percent to $370 million. The bureau said that the increase in exports was due to a combination of factors, including a rise in demand for U.S. garments abroad and a decline in imports from other countries.

RP wins over IMF with debt-swap proposal

By Michael L. Williams

MANILA, Nov. 9 — Philippine President Fidel V. Ramos said today that his government had won the support of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) for a debt-swap proposal to help ease the country's foreign debt burden. Ramos said the IMF had agreed to a "preliminary understanding" with the Philippines on a debt-swap arrangement that would allow the country to use its foreign reserves to purchase U.S. Treasury bonds, which would then be sold to the IMF to help pay off its foreign debt. The deal, Ramos said, was a "significant step" toward resolving the country's foreign debt problem and would help the Philippines to "rebuild its economy" and "attract foreign investment."

RP continues to lag behind SE Asia economies, says IMF

By Philip J. Brown

Makati — Pulls over package to feed up investors

MANILA, Nov. 9 —

IMF officials said today that the Philippines' economic growth continues to lag behind other Southeast Asian economies, despite the government's efforts to attract foreign investment and improve its economic performance. The IMF's latest report on the Philippines' economy, released today, noted that the country's growth rate in 1996 was 4.5 percent, which was significantly lower than the 7.5 percent growth rate of Thailand and the 6.5 percent growth rate of Indonesia. The report also noted that the Philippines' foreign debt remains a major problem, with the country's foreign debt-to-GDP ratio standing at 100 percent. However, the report did note some positive developments, such as the government's efforts to improve its fiscal management and its commitment to reforming its financial system.

'Quimsonizing' Filipino food

Fried chicken

A view of the restaurant

Introduction

Quimsonizing is a new twist on the traditional Filipino food. It is a fusion of Filipino and Western cuisines, creating a unique and delicious dish.

The concept of quimsonizing is to take traditional Filipino dishes and add a Western twist. This can be done in many ways, such as using different ingredients or cooking methods.

Ingredients

Some of the ingredients used in quimsonizing include chicken, beef, pork, and seafood. These are often combined with traditional Filipino spices and herbs.

Other ingredients include rice, noodles, and vegetables. These are often used as a base for the quimsonized dish.

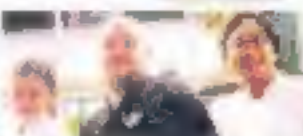

The quimsonizing process involves cooking the ingredients together in a pot or pan. This allows the flavors to meld together and creates a delicious sauce.

Once the dish is cooked, it is often garnished with fresh herbs and vegetables. This adds a pop of color and freshness to the dish.

Quimsonizing is a fun and creative way to enjoy Filipino food. It allows you to experiment with different flavors and textures, creating a dish that is uniquely yours.

FLAVORFUL mix of meat and vegetables, like a salad, is a quimsonized dish.

Challenging job

For Quimsonizing, the chef has to be creative and innovative. He has to come up with new recipes and techniques that will appeal to a wide range of customers.

The chef also has to be a good manager. He has to make sure that the kitchen is running smoothly and that the staff is working efficiently.

He also has to be a good communicator. He has to be able to explain the concept of quimsonizing to his customers and to his staff.

Overall, being a chef at a quimsonizing restaurant is a challenging job. It requires a lot of creativity, innovation, and hard work.

But for the chef, it is also a rewarding job. He gets to see his customers enjoy the food he has created and to hear their compliments.

For the chef, quimsonizing is not just a job. It is a passion. It is a way of life.

And for the customers, it is a delicious experience. It is a chance to try something new and to enjoy the best of both worlds.
